

Join A Movement of Philanthropic Leaders

GRANTMAKERS
CONCERNED
WITH IMMIGRANTS
AND REFUGEES

Philanthropic leadership and solidarity is crucial to ensuring justice and dignity for all, and GCIR stands ready as a resource and partner to grantmakers. Being a GCIR member demonstrates a dedication to building an inclusive and equitable society and helps ensure a robust community of funders focused on the needs of newcomers.

Become a member!

GCIR is deeply grateful to our members for their commitment to advancing immigrant justice.

We welcome corporate-giving programs, other grantmaking organizations, philanthropic advisors, and public funding agencies as members.

Not already a member? Join us today and take advantage of a 10% discount on membership if you attended the 2024 national convening.

Who are our members?

GCIR's membership network is made up of local, state, and national foundations with wide-ranging grantmaking priorities. Some explicitly fund immigration-related efforts, while others recognize the importance of applying an immigration lens to their existing grantmaking.

Members make our work possible

As a flexible source of funding, membership dues are critical to GCIR's sustainability. This support enables us to:

- keep philanthropy up to date on the latest developments.
- mobilize timely and strategic philanthropic responses.
- catalyze high-impact grantmaking to bring about long-term systemic change.
